WORLD IN TRIBUTE TO WASHINGTON AS PIONEER OF LIBERTY

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
FRANCIS (N. Y.) Feb. 22.—After tracing in the career of George Washington proof of his contention that the foundation of liberty, of freedom and of organized society rests on religion, Vice-President Coolidge paid tribute to the first President in an address here today.

William Cabell Brown of Virginia, speaking today at a Washington birthday observance in St. Paul's Chapel, sponsored by the Bulgare Institution, declared the belief that if Washington were alive today he would not approve the present foreign policy of the United States.

"He would doubtless condemn, and rightly so, secret alliances with any portion of the foreign world," said Bishop Brown, "but when I remember the lofty idealism which he characterized, I wonder if he would regard, with approval, our government's policy of abstention in world affairs."

Bishop Brown pointed out that no one who is familiar with the life of Washington can escape the conviction that among outstanding factors in the shaping of his character was his belief in an overruling providence.

PARIS, Feb. 22.—An appeal for concordance in the powers of democracy was made by American Ambassador Herrick at a luncheon given at his residence today to the diplomats representing South and Central American nations, on the occasion of Washington's birthday.

Mr. Herrick read a message from Dr. Leo S. Rowe, director of the Pan-American union, describing the achievements of the Chile-Peru peace treaty.

The Break in the Ranks

PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT COSTS MOUNT

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The Department of Justice is staggering under a constantly increasing burden of prosecutions to enforce the national prohibition law and the cost of enforcement is actually more than 50 per cent greater than has been represented according to testimony before the House Committee on Appropriations, which was made public today.

Some of the more interesting facts brought to light by the hearings were:

Forty-four per cent of the time of the Federal district attorneys throughout the United States is taken up by prohibition cases. Out of 78,000 civil and criminal cases commenced by the Department of Justice during the last fiscal year, 37,141 were for violation of the prohibition law.

CASES TOTAL 50,000
The Department of Justice estimates that the number of prohibition cases of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923, will total 50,000.

Prohibition cases not disposed of are gaining on the department at the rate of at least 7000 a year, presenting a prospect of unprecedented congestion in the courts, notwithstanding the recent enlargement of the Federal judiciary.

On top of the $9,000,000 which Congress is appropriating annually for the prohibition commission-er's office, approximately $9,000,000 is expended by the Department of Justice in its efforts to enforce the prohibition law, making a total outlay of $18,000,000 annually for prohibition enforcement.

Despite the energy and money expended by the Department of Justice in prosecuting prohibition violators, the number of cases collected dropped from 22,413,000 in 1921 to 22,377,000 in 1922.

Officials of the Department of Justice appeared before the committee asking a deficiency appropriation of $478,000 for salaries, fees and expenses of United States marshals. At the request of Representative Tinkham, Republican, Massachusetts, they presented a report compiled from the answers of all the district attorneys to an inquiry as to the percentage of their time they had to devote to liquor cases.

The percentages ranged from 5 per cent for the District Attorney

IRISH FREE STATERS SEIZE REBEL LEADER AND FIVE ASSOCIATES

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
LONDON, Feb. 23.—A Central News dispatch from Dublin reports a rumor that the Free State government has arrested Eamonn de Valera and Liam Lynch. Detectives of the Irish criminal investigation department, the dispatch adds, made several important captures early today. The men taken include five of the principal irregular leaders. The authorities were extremely reticent as to the results of the operation, but it is rumored that De Valera and Lynch were among those taken.

It is understood, the correspondent asserts, that the irregular army council was surprised while in session in a house at Drumcondra.

The determination of the Free State government to capture De Valera and thus end organized armed resistance to the constituted government has been hinted at in recent reports from Dublin. The authorities were only awaiting the termination of the amnesty period to take the rebel leader and his lieutenant, Liam Lynch, it was reported. His whereabouts, long a secret, were made known to the Free State officials. It was announced.

The insurgents have boasted that the Free State government did not dare to arrest their leader. No hint as to what punishment will be dealt to De Valera has been forthcoming. Various reports have been put to death by the government.

ONE KILLED, MANY HURT WHEN POILUS FIRE ON GERMANS

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
BOCHUM, Feb. 22.—Two French soldiers this afternoon fired point blank into a crowd of Germans in front of the law courts, killing one man and severely wounding two others.

The trouble occurred while French troops, with tanks, were engaged in occupying the law courts building and the neighboring prison on suspicion that certain Frenchmen had been incarcerated as spies. During this operation a German official was arrested and placed under a guard of five French soldiers.

The bystanders whooped the soldiers, two of whom fired then into the crowd. The trouble was witnessed by several foreign newspaper men. The crowd had made an attempt to molest the soldiers. The police were greatly angered and one body of the townsmen, finding a French civilian interpreter alone in the street, mobbed and manhandled him. The Frenchman was removed, battered and bleeding, to the police station.

The French now have in full effect their customs rule for the collection of taxes. It has been reported that the district in which is concentrated Germany's wealth, also the occupation forces are installing telephone lines and making necessary arrangements to extend water and railroad transportation. They are using thousands of trained civilian workmen brought from France.

PENALTIES INFLICTED
(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
BERLIN, Feb. 22.—Gestapo officers having been evicted by the French forces after their several days of punitive occupancy, the spotlight on the Ruhr Valley developments has been turned to the penalties the Franco-Belgian court-martial and the border control bodies are inflicting on the Germans because of their resistance to the Allied authorities.

The latest move of the occupiers to effect German obstructions to the maintenance of railroad transportation is being met by the Germans.

PANAMA CANAL "CAPTURED" BY PACIFIC FLEET

(BY LINTON WELLS)
"Times" Staff Correspondent
ABOARD THE U.S.S. CALIFORNIA, Feb. 22.—(By Naval Radio) When sixty-three vessels of the Pacific Fleet quietly came to anchor last night in the snug port of Culabra, Costa Rica, they indicated the accuracy of Admiral Eberle's contention that the Panama Canal locks and Canal Zone fortifications are not immune from destruction.

For fifty-one hours, the Pacific Fleet, with all ships darkened and radio silenced, and equipped on visual communication, eluded the vessels of Admiral McDonald's fleet and got within striking distance of the Panama Canal.

The first contact came yesterday morning, when the destroyer Sumner of the Pacific Fleet sighted the destroyer Cass of the opposing fleet.

FLEET SIGHTED
When sighted by the Sumner, the Cass was twenty-five miles distant from the coasting lines, and while the Sumner was unable to prevent the Cass from notifying the Atlantic Fleet of the contact, it was given credit for the destruction of the Atlantic fleet.

Several hours later, when approaching the harbor of Culabra, two enemy submarines were sighted by the Pacific Fleet, and rendered useless, although in actual warfare some damage might have been caused by the submarines.

The submarine O-4 narrowly escaped sinking, when after having been kept under by destroyers, she appeared on the surface a scant 100 yards in front of the California.

The solution of the naval problem in which the entire United States Fleet participated, has brought to a successful conclusion Admiral Eberle's part in the war maneuvers, and secured his objective, Admiral Eberle notified Admiral Jones, Commander-in-Chief and umpire of the maneuvers, that he had succeeded.

PROBLEM ENDED
Admiral Jones immediately instructed him that the battle problem had been solved, though another on a smaller scale will be worked out between here and Panama. No official statement concerning the result of the maneuvers has been issued.

Exactly where Admiral McDonald's main fleet is anchored is not known, but so far none of its vessels has put in an appearance.

However, a number of seaplanes from his fleet flew over the Pacific Fleet last night, so it is likely that they are not far distant.

On Friday the fleet will pull up anchor for Panama. Today being Washington's birthday, all the ships are decorated, and at noon a twenty-one gun salute was fired.

Fourteen Thousand Wacht am Reiners in New York Score Ruhr Invasion; Aided by Pacifists

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—Among the 14,000 persons who crowded Madison Square Garden tonight at the mass protest of the Committee of One Hundred against the Ruhr "invasion," not one champion appeared to plead the cause of France or to clap a hand in admiration of her German policy.

The meeting was wildly demonstrative. It was not the kind of demonstration, however, for which the police, stationed within and without the garden, $50 strong, had been on guard.

There was an occasional concert and a prolonged hissing. There were a few cries of "out with him" when some speaker dared to suggest that Germany would "be made to pay" by just a "few" dollars.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Soldiers' bonus advocates in the House were given a glimmer of hope today by Chairman Fordney of the Ways and Means Committee, author of the measure vetoed by President Harding, but it proved short-lived.

Mr. Fordney, addressing the House on the British debt settlement, said Secretary Mellon had told him that he had no objection to the use of the money received from the foreign debt, principal and interest, in financing a bonus for former service men after the money had been obtained.

Mr. Mellon, when his attention was called to Mr. Fordney's remarks, said he had no recollection of having made the statement.

The Treasury Secretary communicated with Mr. Fordney by telephone and the Michigan representative stated later that evidently he had misunderstood Mr. Mellon and would strike his remarks from the record of the House proceedings. He added that at the first opportunity he would make an explanation of the matter to the House.

STARTS OPPORTUNITY
The opportunity was afforded at a session of the House tonight, Mr. Fordney taking the floor and explaining that the Secretary had told him he had not intended to convey any such impression as given by the Michigan representative.

Mr. Fordney, saying he wished to stand corrected, obtained unanimous consent for his remarks to be stricken from the record.

The bonus question was brought up by Representative Fish, Republican, New York, a former service man.

"The distinguished gentleman from Michigan, Mr. Fordney, will leave the House in a short time," said Mr. Fish, "and the bill which he introduced, known as the bonus bill, will die at the end of this session. I wish this gentleman would inform the House, as a matter of record, about the statement that he made yesterday, that the Secretary of the Treasury had made to him, with respect to the use of these funds."

FORDNEY STATEMENT
"In speaking with the Treasury Secretary about the wisdom or advisability at the present time of pressing to Congress a bonus bill," replied Mr. Fordney, "he suggested that he had not intended to convey any such impression as given by the Michigan representative. I wish to make it clear that he had not intended to convey any such impression as given by the Michigan representative."

RECEIVER NAMED FOR MORTGAGE COMPANY

ACTION TAKEN TO CONSERVE ASSETS OF CLEVELAND INSTITUTION

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
CLEVELAND, Feb. 22.—William L. David and Thomas H. Hogewit, Cleveland attorneys, late today were named receivers for the Cleveland Discount Company, one of the largest mortgage concerns in the United States, by Common Pleas Judge Alvin T. Pearson, and immediately took charge of the affairs of the organization.

Two other lawyers at the same time were appointed attorneys for the receivers. The resources of the company were reported last July to be in excess of $42,000,000.

A voluntary petition asking the receivership was filed by W. H. Hoppie, Tiffin manufacturer, chairman of the board of directors, who said that he made the application on behalf of more than 15,000 stockholders scattered throughout the country. Mr. Hoppie is said to be the largest stockholder in the concern.

Appointment of the receivers followed the resignation yesterday of Fred C. Embo, acting president, director and general manager. Mr. Embo was appointed to these offices on February 12, when Josiah Kirby, founder of the company, resigned upon recommendation of a committee of bankers, whose advice was sought by the directors.

The receivers issued a statement tonight in which they said that every effort will be made to conserve the assets of the company from needless litigation and to protect the property for the benefit of all concerned.

FAIRMOUNT (Ind.) Feb. 22.—Victor W. Selby, president of the Citizens State Bank of Fairmount, who bought out former owners, said today that bank records show the former president's name was Joseph Marcino. He expressed the opinion that this man and the Joseph Marcino, who is being sought in connection with the failure of the Warren (Mass.) National Bank, are the same.

ISSUE WARRANT SOON

SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) Feb. 22.—Officials said here today that a warrant would probably be issued tomorrow for the arrest of Joseph B. Marcino, asserted leading conspirator in the ring that robbed the First National Bank of Warren of $219,000 worth of securities on the 6th inst., worked the Niagara Life Insurance Company of Buffalo and embezzled funds from the Mechanics and Merchants Bank of Philadelphia.

Marcino's whereabouts are not definitely known, however. A warrant for the arrest of Frank L. Taylor, president of the Warren Bank, is in the possession of Agent William J. Gaffney, of the Department of Justice office in this city, and a certified copy of this warrant and of the complaint charging Taylor with embezzlement will be forwarded through the United States Attorney's office to Chicago, to bring Taylor to this State for trial.

It is likely that the Taylor case will be presented to the Federal District Court at either a Boston or Springfield sitting of the court.

MODESTO, Feb. 22.—The oft-repeated expression that the American doughboy was equal to three Germans in the late war was characterized as "bunk" by Seth Millington, department commander of the Stanley L. Collins post of Post and Oakdale City and Chamber of Commerce officials at Oakdale this afternoon.

ALL CONDEMN LAW

The sentiment of the meeting was outspoken against the present anticargar law and for its repeal. The discussion showed the local business men to be a unit in declaring that the recent arrests of smokers had resulted in Utah being made the laughing stock of the nation. Some expressed the opinion that it would do little good to spend money in advertising the State under existing conditions.

REPEAL IS FAVORED

Daniel Alexander declared in favor of repealing the existing law, but said that Sheriff Harries was compelled to enforce it and that he had made the recent arrests of smokers in the hope that it would arouse public sentiment to that stage where a repeal would be forced.

SHERRIFF HARRIES

"Sheriff Harries would be as glad as anyone to see this law repealed," said Mr. Alexander. "He is under a moral obligation to enforce it, but the only way to beat a bad law is to enforce it to a point where the people view it with disgust."

The fight to be waged against the law will be financed through the committee appointed at today's meeting.

FAITH OF NATIONS
In the course of his speech, Mr. Herick said "the difficulty lying at the bottom of the troubles besetting the world today is that there has been bad faith, deception and broken promises. When all nations, willingly or by compulsion, fulfill their engagements normal conditions of political and commercial intercourse can be re-established."

The Ambassador dwelt on the necessity of credit and good will. He recalled the fierce party strife, disunion and bankruptcy encountered by Gen. Washington, and disloyalty even among his Cabinet members, while he was struggling to establish the new government, and his elation when his term of office ended. These things, Mr. Herick said, should serve mankind.

"Happy the people who have had a Washington; happy the nation with so splendid a founder. God will that his work would be worthy of its creator."

"The United States, by its force, grandeur and moral and material wealth, won the admiration of the whole world. Honor to the United States."

Concluding with a reference to the coming Pan-American congress in Santiago, the Brazilian Ambassador said:

"We all make ardent vows that the three Americas as a result of this congress will be stronger and greater in the cause of service to humanity."

DAY IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Federal government activities in all branches, with the exception of Congress, were suspended today for the observance of George Washington's Birthday. Both Senate and House remained open for the day.

The official celebration here centered in ceremonies at Washington Monument, at which the governors of all States had been invited to listen in by radio. Laying wreaths at the base of the monument by Secretary Weeks and other high government officials as well as representatives of a number of patriotic organizations and the paying of military honors to the memory of the first President, marked the ceremonial program.

SHORTDRIDGE SPEAKS

Senator Shortridge of California was the principal speaker of the program arranged by the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at Continental Memorial Hall, with other societies participating.

Among those making the annual pilgrimage to Mt. Vernon were 600 Washington Boy Scouts, to lay a wreath on the tomb. A detachment from Sir Auckland Gaddes, the British Ambassador, was placed on the tomb yesterday by Charles Chilton, counselor of the Embassy, acting for the Ambassador, who is confined with illness. Mr. Chilton was accompanied to Mt. Vernon by Mrs. William S. Cummins, Story, honorary president-general of the D.A.R., who also placed a wreath in the inner tomb.

DOUBLE CELEBRATION

CLEVELAND (O.) Feb. 22.—George Washington's birthday observance was the occasion for a double celebration by the Cleveland firemen, who today paid tribute to the seventy-fifth anniversary of the birth of their chief, George Alexander Wallace, said to be the oldest active fire-fighter in America. Chief Wallace, who will complete his twenty-second year as head of the department on March 4, became a fireman fifty-five years ago. As Chief he has never missed a big fire.

Despite his advanced age and his long and strenuous service, he is active and, although eligible to a $1750 yearly pension, says he expects to "remain Chief of the fire department for many more years."

In Kansas to 90 per cent for the District Attorney of the Southern District of Alabama, where a State prohibition law was passed years before the Volstead Act.

In the Southern District of Illinois the District Attorney reported that he had spent 40 per cent of his time trying to enforce prohibition. The district attorneys of the Northern and Eastern districts each reported that they gave 10 per cent of their time to prohibition cases.

MOUNTING APPROPRIATIONS
When members of the committee explained concerning the mounting appropriations for the Department of Justice, E. M. Kennard, representing the department, replied:

"I have from the merits and demerits of the question it is a fact that the National prohibition act is causing about 30 per cent of the increased expense in your department on that account," said Representative Gallivan.

"When we give the prohibition enforcement office $9,000,000 the people of the country have been led to think that that is all the expense that the government has in connection with the enforcement of that law, but I want the people to know that there is a large additional expense in your department on that account," said Representative Gallivan.

"I should say that it amounts to $5,000,000 a year at least," replied Kennard.

Opponents and proponents of the existing methods of enforcing the prohibition laws carried their fight into the Senate chamber being conducted at a Washington theater today when John Temple Graves, resident commissioner of the Lincoln Memorial in the course of an address decried the ultra radicalism which he said permeated the prohibition enforcement division now and called for a return to a wiser moderation of the past.

Cheers and applause interrupted his speech and Charles H. Butler, Washington attorney, fought his way to the platform to denounce what Graves had just said. After his remarks in answer to the Lenten speaker, Butler publicly drew his support from the Lenten services because those in charge had not also repudiated Graves.

ACT OF TREASON
"What he did was a base act of treason against the people of this country, then it is an act of treason against the law, and I am sure that the law, had drank that liquor and gone his way," said Graves.

"The only hope of stemming an increasing violation and contempt of the law is by sane conservatism rather than by Red radicalism of enforcement."

The Chief Justice has been asked how long it would take to bring about enforcement of the prohibition law. The Chief Justice said ten years. The President has been asked the same question. He said twenty years. Let's take an average. That means that for fifteen more years, under present conditions, there will be a continuation of this riotous violation of the law.

KLAN BATTLE ON IN SENATE
Effort Made to Prevent Seating of Texan
Triple K Accused of Fraud in Election
Determined Attack Opened Against Mayfield

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The controversy over the Ku Klux Klan was brought into the United States Senate today with the filing of proceedings contesting the right of E. B. Mayfield to become a senator from Texas.
The contest was brought by George E. B. Paddy, Republican, and "Independent Democratic" candidate for senator in the election last November, who declared himself elected despite the majority credited by election officials to Mayfield, the regular Democratic nominee. A scathing indictment of the Klan, of which it was charged that Mayfield was a member, was included in the petition and was placed on file by Mayfield's credentials to be considered when the new Congress meets next fall.

FRAUD CHARGED TO KLAN
Klan officers were charged with "illegal and fraudulent" practices in the petition, which also alleged fraud in counting the ballots, illegal expenditures of more than $150,000 in Mayfield's behalf, and numerous other irregularities. Among the charges laid at the door of the Klan was that it had attempted to use a super-government to "seduce and defile the public conscience," to gain commercial and other dominion, to accomplish proscription of the Christian religion, to exercise "brutal and tyrannical control and discipline," and to engage in "illegal and immoral practices."
The Senate was asked to preserve and recount the Texas ballots, to investigate the Texas primary and election and to prohibit Mayfield from taking the oath when the next Congress convenes. His credentials having been received, however, the whole matter, under usual Senate procedure, would be referred to the privileges and elections committee when Congress reconvenes, and pending the committee's investigation, the oath would be administered.

DISHONESTY ASSERTED
The contestant's petition declared that Mayfield was "not honestly or lawfully elected" by virtue of the fact that Paddy's name was kept off the printed ballot, because of the alleged "conspiracy" of the Klan, and for other reasons. The document comprised about 25,000 words and was accompanied by many exhibits, including alleged copies of letters between Klan officers, newspaper articles, and urging Klansmen to support him.
In support of a charge that Mayfield abused his power as state railroad commissioner to further his campaign, one of the papers accompanying the case quoted him as threatening oil and other interests in seeking campaign contributions.

IN MEMORY OF OSBORNE
National Capitol to Be Scene of Services Sunday in Honor of Late Congressman

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Memorial services in honor of the memory of Congressman H. E. Osborne of Los Angeles will be conducted in the House of Representatives Hall in the Capitol Building here next Sunday afternoon. Every member of the California delegation now in Washington, will pay tribute to the fine character and accomplishments of the much-loved representative of Los Angeles; and the chairmen of two of the most important committees will tell of their association with and admiration for the departed member.
One of the most interesting features of this memorial service will be the address, to be paid to the memory of the last member of the Grand Army of the Republic in Congress, by the sole surviving member of the Confederate forces, Congressman Charles M. Steadman of North Carolina. Capt. Osborn and Steadman were great friends during their service in Congress and were frequently snapped together by amateur photographers on the Capitol grounds.
Martin E. Madden, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, perhaps the most important of all committees in the body, will tell of his intimate official relations, there on the Capitol grounds, with Congressman Osborn. He has been promoted from the Rivers and Harbors Committee to the Committee on the Pacific Coast and Alaska, and is now chairman of the Rivers and Harbors Committee.
Not elected to the Senate I will be railroad commissioner for four years more and they had better kick in or they will be sorry," Osborn was quoted as having informed Madden before his death. It was charged also to get Madden in contributions and did turn over some money.

APACHES DEPRIVED OF WORK
Arizona County Commission Decries Ban on Indian in Favor of White

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
GLOBE (Ariz.) Feb. 22.—For years past much of the road construction and maintenance within Gila county has been done by stalwart San Carlos or Maricopa Apaches, who have been pridefully pointed out to the newcomers as evidences of the changing spirit of the redskins. The work has been welcomed by the Indians, for without the pay received there would have been destitution in many a tepee.
Now, under a new administration has come determination to eliminate the Indian on the roads. The County Board of Supervisors has given instructions to substitute white men at all points and this order is being carried out by County Engineer Milton.

THREATENED MAN DIES OF DISEASE
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
GLOBE (Ariz.) Feb. 22.—James D. Whitten, aged 29, an employee of the Inspiration Copper Company, has died of pneumonia, after a short illness. Last summer Whitten came into the public eye as a refugee from Wharton, Tex., where his life was reported threatened by the Ku Klux Klan. He was born in Wharton and there had lived for most of his life.
During a Klan raid on his home, Whitten killed a man and wounded another, fleeing at once to Arizona. A demand for his extradition was refused by Gov. Campbell of Arizona, who was convinced that he had acted simply in defense of his home. Here Whitten lived in constant dread that the Klan would reach him and inflict vengeance in some mysterious manner. The body has been sent back to Wharton for burial in a family plot. A wife and young daughter survive.

A portion of the prize was the trip to Washington and return with all expenses paid. He is accompanied by Rupt Johnson, of the San Diego schools, and will visit New York before his return.

LONDON, Feb. 22.—(Tribune Radio)—Maurice, the famous dancer, was named today as correspondent in a divorce suit by Tom Furness, a cousin of Lord Furness, and a member of the famous shipping firm of Furness, Withy & Co. Evidence also was given asserting frequent visits by Mrs. Furness to Maurice when the latter was staying at the Piccadilly Hotel in London, and also of scenes between the husband and wife when the latter was asserted to have tried to stab him, scratched his face, etc.
Mr. Furness said that he and his wife had spent £120,000 (roughly $564,000) in three years. The case was adjourned.

COMB HAIR—AND IT STAYS

Even obstinate, unruly or shampooed hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is a dignified, soothing cream which gives that naturalness and well-groomed effect to your hair—that final touch to good looks both in business and on social occasions.

Greasiness, stainless "Hair-Groom" does not show on the hair because it is absorbed by the scalp, therefore your hair remains so soft and pliable, so natural that no one can possibly tell you used it.—[Advertisement.]

British Refunding Program is Near Completion
Geddes Will Act Finally for Great Britain

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The British debt-funding arrangement tonight was one step nearer completion. Congressional approval of the act ratifying the recently negotiated settlement with Great Britain having been completed today. Only the signature of President Harding is required to permit the treasury to exchange formal settlement agreements. Congressional action was completed when the House accepted Senate changes in the British settlement bill without modification.

As a result of the Congressional approval and with the signature of the President assumed to be certain, treasury officials began the drafting of the indentures which are to be exchanged between the United States and Great Britain and which will put into operation the program for refunding over sixty-two years the British war-time debt of $4,600,000,000.

NOTAS LOCALES
Remington Había Sido Amenazado de Muerte
Earle Remington, "bootlegger" de sociedad que fue muerto de un tiro de escopeta al bajarse del automóvil en su casa, St. Andrews Place Sur, 1409, hace ocho días, había sido amenazado de muerte en cartas que escribió a amigos de Connecticut. Lo de las amenazas a Remington fue averiguado ayer tarde por la policía, al encontrar en la oficina del oculto, Calle Hill Sur, 241, las contestaciones de sus amigos del este. Dice la policía que esa correspondencia había de amenazas y contiene advertencias de que tome precauciones. Se mantiene reserva acerca de los nombres de los señalamientos de las cartas, y ya se ha pedido algunos detectives del estado que los interroguen.

Ayer registraron los detectives cinco y Jarvis, la oficina y el almacén de Remington, y buena cantidad de cartas y otros papeles que había en la oficina fueron llevados a la estación de policía, donde los documentos que se arrojaban podían tener relación con el caso. Entre lo que se llevaron los policías, figuraron las cartas en que se había de amenazas de muerte, y el libro de cheques del asegurado.

Un Desconocido que Busca la Muerte del Banquero Judkins
John Muir, de Denver, Colorado, reveló anoche a la policía un complejo caso de asesinato. E. D. Judkins, Presidente del First National Bank de Long Beach, y esto ha hecho que se inicie hoy una extensa investigación enmendada aprehender al individuo que ofreció $15,000 a Muir porque "hiciera a un lado a Judkins". Entretanto, el presidente de banco referido se halla continuamente cuidado por dos detectives particulares, según manifestara la policía. Tienen instrucciones de permanecer constantemente junto al banquero amenazado.

Muir contó a la policía pormenorizadamente lo de la oferta de $15,000 que le hizo, por que asesinara a Judkins. Esto tuvo lugar la tarde del domingo, mientras se hallaba parado en el Silver Star.

Se le acercó un individuo de edad madura, bien vestido, de correctas maneras, y que revelaba ser rico, y le preguntó si quería ganar dinero con facilidad. Muir, que se hallaba sin recursos, contestó afirmativamente, y entonces el desconocido sacó un fajo de billetes, diciéndole que contenía $15,000, los que serían suyos, si lo convenía en sacarse a un lado a una persona. Agregó que le pagaría $500 adelantados, y le daría el resto tan luego como la prensa anunciara que había sido dado el golpe. Procedió el desconocido a decirle a Muir quién era el hombre a quien se trataba de destruir, y dónde podía encontrarse. Muir, nervioso, le pidió tiempo para pensar el asunto, y gruñó: se ofreció a revelar la criminal proposición a la policía.

TAX-EXEMPT BONDS TO LIVE

Amendment to Raise Revenue Doomed to Death
Proposed Change in Official Terms Near Passage
Approval of Child Labor Law Also Certain

(BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG)
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Of the three proposed constitutional amendments now pending before Congress, that loom up above the sixty-nine others still in committee, two were appreciably toward passage today and the third, namely, the one which would remove the tax-free exemption from Federal, State and municipal bonds and securities, was headed for the death chamber.

Late this afternoon Chairman Andrews of the House Committee on Elections, reported a redrafted amendment, changing the terms of President, Vice-President and Congress, the language being entirely different from that used in the Norris amendment, which has passed the Senate. Senator Shortridge, who was instructed several days ago by the Senate Judiciary Committee to report the child labor amendment, has been prevented by the filibuster from doing so, but he has had the report printed and is merely waiting the psychological and parliamentary opportunity to get it in and secure the approval of the Senate, which is almost sure to be granted. The text is simple, providing that the Congress shall have power, concurrent with that of the several States, to limit or prohibit labor of persons under the age of 18.

LENGTHY REPORT
Senator Shortridge's report on the proposed amendment is an exhaustive and lengthy document in which all phases of the legal aspect of child labor legislation are considered.

The so-called lame duck amendment reported by Chairman Andrews in the House, is lengthy, but more explicit than the Norris amendment. It provides that the outgoing officials in office when the amendment becomes effective shall suffer curtailment of their terms, instead of having the curtailment apply to the incoming officials as the Senate wanted to do.

An important change is made by providing that the new Congress shall take office January 1, instead of the first Monday in January, as the Norris resolution proposed, and that the new President and Vice-President shall take office January 24, instead of on the third Monday in January. While the language is changed, the effect of sections 1 and 2 of the Norris resolution stands and those two sections are consolidated into one.

Another section provides that Congress shall continue to meet annually on January 4 "unless otherwise provided by law," leaving it up to Congress to fix the date of sessions as it will.

An entirely new section is added to take care of a possible situation that might arise. It provides that if the election of President and Vice-President at the time of the election falls and a deadlock ensues, and Congress is called upon to elect, it must elect by January 24 or designate by that time an officer of the government shall act in place of the President, pending a selection.

CONSIDERATION DOUBTFUL
If this resolution can obtain consideration in the House, it is quite sure to pass that body, but that it can obtain consideration is questionable. Its chances would be improved somewhat if special rule could be brought in giving it precedence, even though the Rules Committee already has complicated the legislative situation by granting ten special rules for as many measures. In the Rules Committee exists strong opposition to the purpose of this proposed amendment and, therefore, there is no certainty of getting the desired rule. In fact, the proponents of the resolution have almost abandoned hope of getting a rule and are placing their chief reliance on passing such a form of opinion behind the plan as practically to compel Congress to act, despite the congested condition of the calendar.

There still remains the Senate to be considered. That body already has definitely announced its opposition to applying the curtailment of terms to officers who have been elected for the full four years. It will be prone to resist the change made by the House, although the House is now in the position to advance arguments to show that this is the simpler and more expeditious manner of reaching the end desired. It can be shown that to apply the curtailment process to incoming rather than outgoing officials would be to stretch the process over six years and would raise innumerable questions as to terms and tenures.

PROTEST BILL
The subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee, dealing with the amendment to remove the tax-free feature from public securities, had a meeting today at which it was swamped with written and vocal protests against this form of legislation. It had also to deal with an urgent request from the new State government of New York that a special hearing be granted to the State's Attorney General to make argument against the measure. The subcommittee decided to refer to the full committee, which does not meet until next week, a decision as to whether the attorney will be heard. By reason of the little time remaining before the end of the session, this spells the demise of the amendment for which Secretary Mellon has been contending so earnestly.

Sales and Advertising Manager WANTS $50,000.00 JOB

On Make Good or Commission Basis

The following may enable you to decide whether it is worth your time and mine to talk it over. I am ready to substantiate what I say about myself by proofs of past performances as well as by an analysis of your business.

I am 40; have been sales executive for past 15 years. In more than one instance I have built a business from a small beginning to sales of a half million dollars or more per month.

Another business that was $100,000 in the red and was ready to close was clearing $3000 per week within sixty days after I took charge as a result of the new sales plans and handling of same.

I have had a broad experience in selling through direct mailing and by display advertising, as well as by salesmen, and by combinations of these.

On a good proposition I can employ, organize and put to work a force of 50 to 100 high-grade strictly commission salesmen within 30 to 60 days.

On some campaigns I have cut the cost of sales in half. If I can't save you all you pay me and make you money besides I don't want the job.

I have received for my services $25,000 and as high as $40,000 per year.

If your business appeals to me I am willing to work on a make-good basis; straight commission or salary and commission. Will start on a short-time arrangement as there isn't enough money to keep me anywhere unless the work is congenial and mutually satisfactory.

I don't believe in high-pressure salesmanship and won't use it.

The proposition with which I connect must be legitimate in every detail, no cutting corners or sharp turns.

I might connect with a business that is comparatively small to start with, if it is founded on correct principles so it is capable of broad development and if you have the vision and make-up to grow with it, as rapidly as is healthy and as will permit the work to be handled in an orderly manner.

I have developed several different propositions with an original expenditure of $1000 or less, making them pay for themselves out of the profits as they go. The nature of some business makes it an essential of success to do this, no matter how great the capital available.

I have sold securities and can raise capital for a business by so doing if it has the proper foundation and is backed by your unshakable faith, integrity and right motives.

Perhaps I could arrange to divide my time between two or more propositions. If you think the services of a man such as I have truthfully described could be of service to your business and that your business has the possibilities that would interest him I will be glad to talk it over. Please give your phone number and if convenient state the hour when I can likely reach you via phone and if agreeable tell as much about your business as I have about myself. Address F, box 221, THE TIMES.

BUSINESS OF MONEY

Story of an Extraordinary Department of Public Service: the United States Treasury

(NOTE—Edward Clifford, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, recently delivered a very comprehensive address on the activities of the Treasury Department. The information used in this article, and in one which is to follow, was taken, in large measure, from his address.)

One of the most extraordinary institutions in the world is the United States Treasury Department, which employs 60,000 persons. The American public has not even a faint conception of the vastness of the business transacted under the head of one Cabinet official.

It is in such enormous sums of money. No corporation of any kind has an income comparable with that of the United States.

No other government deals with very few individual companies or corporations employ a greater army of workers than the American Treasury; the only agency in our country which may print or coin money.

Secretary Mellon's vast business is divided into thirty-one different bureaus, each with a chief reporting directly to one of the assistant secretaries, and covering the most amazing variety of enterprises.

One collects the customs, another gathers the internal revenue, a third operates the United States Department of Health, another directs the Federal Coast Guard, and more, and the newest, controls the budget.

Direct Service Established With the Orient

New Investment Firm for Busy Van Nuys

Insurance Growth Figures; Retiring Notes

For the first time in the history of Los Angeles shipping, direct freight and passenger service between Los Angeles Harbor and the Orient is being attempted by the Toyo Kisen Kaisha line. The direct service is not permanent, however, but in the opinion of S. L. Kreider, agent for the company, it is the forerunner of a development that will eventually be perpetuated in a regular schedule.

The direct service will be accomplished by the steamships Anyo Maru and Rakuyo Maru. The former has just arrived from South America, and will proceed to Japan without further stops, with the exception of Honolulu. The Rakuyo Maru will make its first stop on the Pacific Coast at Los Angeles Harbor about March 8, and will be the first ship from the Orient to dock here without first touching other Pacific ports. This schedule, although temporary, is necessitated by the increasing volume of business between this port and the Orient.

The S.S. Anyo Maru is now discharging at the harbor after completing a successful run from Valparaiso, Chile, and way ports. The ship carried a cargo of 1200 tons, including a consignment of chin-chillas, a squirrel-like animal from the Andes, the fur of which is used on women's dresses. Passengers on the ship for Los Angeles included British, Russian, American and Swiss, totaling twenty-two. The S.S. Anyo Maru will take a cargo of cotton and manufactured goods to the Orient, and about fifty passengers.

The S.S. Rakuyo Maru will have a total cargo valued at $600,000 when she docks in the harbor early in March. The goods were gathered at different points in Japan and China.

When You Buy A Hydro-Electric Security

When you place your funds in a good hydro-electric security you have the satisfaction of owning a safe investment. You have the assurance of a reasonable, regular return on your invested money.

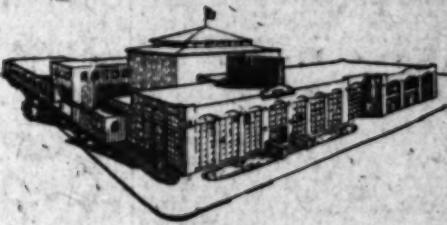

You have released a certain amount of funds for use in developing new hydro-electric energy—for use in building transmission or distributing lines to bring power to a new territory—for use in installing equipment necessary to make power available to the greatest number of people at a reasonable cost. The company, through your investment, has additional opportunity to enlarge its business and under governmental regulation become a stronger hydro-electric company, rendering its service to the public.

Electricity is not a choice of persons. Young or old, rich or poor—people will obtain power for making their homes more enjoyable with light and labor-saving devices—power for running the motors of industry—power for pumping the water to make land produce abundantly.

The Pacific Power & Light Company securities which we recommend give you the opportunity for such investment. Full information will be sent on your request.

THE BUSINESS OF MONEY HERE

of the capital city of Washington itself. Scores are now in course of construction.

This property, nearly all owned under the dominion of the Treasury, is the first sixty-five years of American history under our Constitution, three secretaries of the Treasury stood out as commanding figures. The first and greatest of all, and indeed one of the greatest Americans of all time, was Alexander Hamilton.

The second was Albert Gallatin, and the third, Salmon P. Chase. Hamilton founded the financial system of the United States when our government was an infant, and no other Cabinet officer since he took his seat with President Washington has done a work which exerted so vast and lasting an influence upon his country.

The Treasury was one of the first creations of the new Congress. The great seal of the Treasury is exactly today as it was 133 years ago, although in 1849 a new seal was cut from cast steel, being in design an exact duplicate of the original.

MANAGING A NATION

Management of the nation's finances was the first duty of the Treasury Department. But that means an infinite and bewildering number of things.

The Secretary must prepare plans for the improvement of the revenue, superintend the collection of revenues and the disbursement of all moneys drawn from the Treasury.

Of the 40,000 employees of the United States Treasury, 41,000 are scattered throughout the nation outside of Washington.

All the money which this country needs must be supplied by the Treasury. There are two kinds of so-called standard money, gold, and standard silver dollars, but by far the greatest volume of money circulated is represented by paper treasury notes, issued against gold and silver held in the Treasury or issued through national banks or Federal reserve banks.

At this moment the United States Treasury holds a total sum of gold ever gathered together since the world began.

Of the total monetary gold in the United States today which approximates $2,900,000,000, about $2,250,000,000 is held in the Federal Treasury.

Before the great war no nation ever had a hoard of gold in excess of $1,000,000,000.

HOW WE GET IT

How does this get into the United States Treasury? Through deposits of gold made at the United States mints and assay offices. Gold certificates are issued against the gold, only a portion of which is minted into money, the balance being in the form of gold bars.

One of the first things our government did when it set up for itself was to mint money. Before that time we had gotten our coins from abroad.

Congress established the first United States Mint in Philadelphia, and the original coinage was of small currency. The Philadelphia Mint has remained ever since, and is now the largest one in the world, and it frequently makes money for other nations.

There are two other United States Mints, one in Denver and the other in San Francisco. Coins made in these mints must bear the city's initial letter "D" or "S," but Philadelphia coins bear no such distinguishing letters.

A recent and unique operation of our mints has been to coin 250,000 silver dollars to replace an equal number sold to England during the war, which it melted down and shipped to the Far East.

MAKING MONEY

For forty-three years there had been no change in the design of silver dollars, but in 1921 the new Peace Dollar appeared.

Paper money is issued, through the United States Treasury, through the Comptroller of Currency and through the Federal Reserve Banks.

The Comptroller's issue of paper money is in the form of National bank notes. These bank notes are issued against an equal amount of circulation privileges.

All such bank notes are redeemable at the bank, and also at the office of the Treasury Department.

FEDERAL RESERVE

Federal Reserve notes, the newest element in our money circulation, are obligations of the Federal Reserve Bank. They are secured by notes of equal amount consisting of notes and bills discounted or bills purchased by the reserve banks, and a gold reserve of at least 40 per cent.

But however and wherever money is issued in America, it must be done under the eye and the control of the United States Treasury. Until the recent war-time cheap paper inflation snowed most of Europe under a blanket of almost worthless currency, the people of the United States had the most money per capita of any people.

As it is, there was on October 1 outstanding over $4,820,000,000, or a trifle more than $41 for each inhabitant.

INSURANCE GROWTH

The sixty-third annual statement of the Equitable Life Insurance Society of the United States gives evidence of the company's continued progress. The new insurance written in 1922 totaled $495,000,000, amounting over $4,000,000 of group insurance. The outstanding insurance on December 31 exceeded $1,600,000,000. Upwards of $1,000,000,000 of dividends during the year in death claims, matured endowments, dividends, annuities and other payments, making a total return of $1,569,474,000 to policyholders since organization. Nearly $16,000,000 have been set aside for dividends to policyholders in 1923.

WILL RETIRE NOTES

The National Cloak and Suit Company plans to retire its 8 per cent issue of $4,500,000 of 8 per cent notes by calling them at 106 1/2, the company announced yesterday. The retirement will be accomplished by the sale of $4,000,000 of 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock, to be underwritten by Goldman, Sachs & Co., Lehman Brothers and Chase Securities Corporation. Stockholders will meet March 8 to authorize a change in the capitalization to permit the offering of the stock.

WALL STREET NEWS

BY MONITOR

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—It is probable that as a result of the advance in the rediscount rate by the New York Federal Reserve Bank from 4 to 4 1/2 percent, the situation of the financial community will be directed more closely to a consideration of the money situation and its bearing on security values. The step taken by the New York bank should provide a suggestion of immediate further increases in rates unless the general business situation of the country should demand such action.

Nothing of the sort appears in prospect at this time. It might be stated, however, that interest rates on prime commercial paper and on stock exchange collateral have moved up somewhat, and are now firm around 4 1/2 and 5 per cent. This may be considered significant only when it is pointed out that February seldom is a time of stiffening money rates.

IN READJUSTMENT

As suggested in this column yesterday, however, the raising of the rate by the New York bank was largely in the nature of a readjustment, and as a precaution against such a concentration of borrowing in this center as might produce dislocation if the rediscount rate were lower here than elsewhere.

There would seem to be no particular reason for expecting speculative issues to be disturbed by a hardening tendency in money. This may have an influence on investment issues where yield is the prime consideration. The stocks that have been active recently, however, are largely those in which transactions have been based primarily on prospects. These are the equipments, steels, coppers, sugars and a few other subdivisions, including numerous specialties. If, for example, the rising prices of copper and tremendous demand for the metal continue, the improved earning power of the shares would provide a buying stimulus not easily checked by a moderate hardening in money.

The same observation applies to the steels, equipments and other groups.

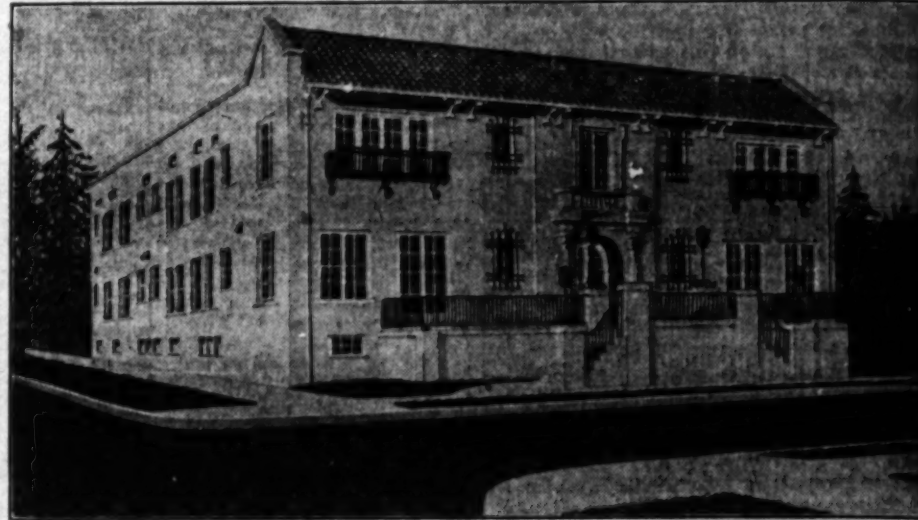

Moreover, there are certain classes of stocks that have by no means begun to reflect or discount changes in the status of their allied industries. Among these may be mentioned the fertilizer companies. Orders from agricultural districts, particularly the south, are on a scale far in excess of last year or the year before.

The rise in cotton has been especially helpful in the matter of collections. More over, the volume of business promises to be large enough to foreshadow profits on the basis of existing prices. It is also important to note that the fertilizer manufacturing companies are well supplied with material, and given adequate transportation, can meet the requirements of their customers.

Nothing definite has developed in the European situation in the last day or so. The somewhat formal denial by the British foreign office that negotiations will be undertaken in London for the settlement of the Ruhr problem, may be taken at its face value. On the other hand, there are persistent hints of progress on the subject of a loan to Germany. The banking support, so far as indemnity is concerned, is not yet

WOOL CLIP SEASON OPENS IN ARIZONA

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

BOSTON, Feb. 21.—Summer Street is operating long western wool growers this week. The wool clip season has been the opening of the new season in Arizona.

A leading wool buyer has credited with having secured the California clip of nearly 200,000 pounds. The clip is said to have been sold to the buyer at the close of the clip, the estimate running from $1.10 to $1.15. This estimate is based on the fact that the clip is of a better quality than the clip of the previous year.

Contracting is going on at many widely scattered points, but buyers are not yet in a position to make a definite estimate of the clip. The clip is said to be of a better quality than the clip of the previous year.

DAY IN REVIEW

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—All American financial and commercial markets were closed today for the holiday. European markets were open as usual. The cables reported steadiness both at London and Paris, but a slightly higher price for gold at London and an advance at Paris in the price of both the pound sterling and of the dollar, measured in francs. Had the New York markets been open, these European quotations would have indicated a slightly lower rate for sterling and French exchange. Cotton interest in Friday's New York market will be at least to some extent directed to the effect on financial sentiment of the New York Reserve Bank's reduction of rate from 4 per cent to 3 1/2.

DEATH DUE TO TRAFFIC ACCIDENT

Glendale Man May Face Charge of Manslaughter; Woman Was Victim

Another name was added to the roll of traffic fatalities last night when Mrs. S. L. McDonald, 48 years of age, 138 West Pico street, died at the Receiving Hospital of injuries received when she was run down by an automobile at the intersection of Lincoln and South Figueroa streets.

As a result of her death, Sidney H. Collins, 340 Kenneth Road, Glendale, faces a charge of manslaughter. He was arrested by Traffic Officer Gosselin, who asserts that Collins ran Mrs. McDonald down, and drove on without stopping to render aid.

The officer reported that he chased Collins for several blocks to arrest him. The accused man denies any knowledge of the accident.

Frank Henry, 1428 West Fifty-eighth Place, was arrested by Officer Gosselin and booked on a charge of violating the Wright Act. The officer said Henry argued Collins's case so vehemently as to rouse his suspicion, so he searched Henry's car and found a bottle of wine.

PLAN FUNERAL FOR FINANCIER

A. J. Waters Services to be Conducted Tomorrow

Banker Had Long Been Prominent in City

Took University Degree at Age of 16

The funeral services for A. J. Waters, head of the Citizens' banks of this city, and known nationally as a banking credit man of remarkable talents and attainments, will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m. at St. John's Episcopal Church, at the intersection of Adams and Figueroa streets.

Rt. Rev. Joseph H. Johnson, bishop of Los Angeles, will officiate and among the pallbearers will be men foremost in banking and business endeavor in the South-west.

Mr. Waters died early yesterday morning at the Good Samaritan Hospital. Three weeks ago he underwent an operation intended to repair a disorder from which he had been suffering for some time.

OUTSTANDING FIGURE

Mr. Waters, who was in his fifty-second year, was in his prime of mental vigor, and his conduct for many years of the Citizens' National Bank and recent assumption of the presidency also of the affiliated Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank made him one of the outstanding figures in the development of Los Angeles.

He had a peculiar genius for judging values from the standpoint

BROADWAY PROPERTY PURCHASED

Eastern Syndicate Takes Over 842-848 at About $5000 a Front Foot

One of the largest cash deals for Broadway frontage in recent years was announced yesterday by Joe Topitsky, realtor, through whom the property located at 842-848 South Broadway was transferred to a syndicate of eastern business men for a consideration of $410,000, or approximately $5000 a front foot. The property was formerly owned by the Hamburger Realty Company.

There are nominal improvements on the property, including some small one-story shop buildings, behind which is located a parking station. The property has a frontage of 78 1/2 feet on Broadway, with a depth of 163 1/2 feet. No plans for the improvement of the property have been made by the new owners. Mr. Topitsky said, and it will probably be held for investment in the future.

This property is the largest unimproved lot on Broadway with the exception of the lot at the north-east corner of Ninth and Broadway, immediately adjoining it on the south, owned by W. H. Clune. The lot has been in the possession of the Hamburger Realty Company for about fifteen years, the company having acquired this property, together with considerable other Broadway frontage, at the time that Hamburger's Department Store was moved to its present location at Eighth and Broadway. Both parties in the transaction were represented by Mr. Topitsky.

WILL PLANT FIRST TREE ON HIGHWAY

Former Gov. Sproul to Start Beautification of Skyline Drive

The first memorial tree along Mulholland skyline drive will be planted tomorrow by former Gov. William Sproul of Pennsylvania, at the intersection of Whittier Terrace Drive with the new scenic highway, on the crest of the Santa Monica Mountain ridge.

A luncheon at Hollywood Country Club will precede the tree planting. Gov. Richardson, Mayor Cramer, William Mulholland, Frank A. Vanderlip, President Bishop of the Chamber of Commerce, Col. J. B. Lankershim, City Engineer Griffith, Col. F. A. True, Harry Chandler, Stanley S. Anderson, George E. Young, L. E. Ishymer, Marco Hellman, E. L. I'ohany, former Gov. Stephen W. D. Longstre, R. L. Woodruff and others will be guests.

The Pennsylvania State Society will be present at the ceremonies in force. They will start promptly at 3 p.m.

The new boulevard, 200 feet wide, will be fringed on each side by trees and plants commemorating famous men in the world's history, and it is planned to have each planted by a distinguished visitor. As the highway is to extend from Griffith Park to Calabasas, there is room for a large forest of memorial trees.

Lee J. Maguire is chairman of the committee in charge of tomorrow's ceremony, over which Harry H. Merrick, president of the Hollywood Foothills Improvement Association, will preside.

WORLD DESTINY OF CITY DISCUSSED AT BANQUET

Members of Chamber of Commerce Hear Prophetic Words; Goal for Membership Is 10,000

Stressing especially the reaching out of Los Angeles into the Orient, Mexico and South America, unifying the great Southwest and establishing a true world-center of industry, commerce and leadership, Capt. John D. Fredericks, retiring president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, opened proceedings last night at the annual banquet of the organization at the Ambassador.

Offering a toast to the incoming president, William T. Bishop, his successor, he turned over to the latter the gold-mounted gavel. The new president spoke on the work of the chamber, outlining the program for this year and the future. Mr. Bishop then turned over the meeting to Edward D. Lyman, master of ceremonies. The latter's first request was a toast to the memory of George Washington.

The thirty-second annual banquet of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce will go down into the historical archives of Secretary Frank Wiggins as the largest attended in the history of that splendid organization. Fifteen hundred guests were in attendance as Capt. Fredericks requested that the diners arise between selections of the band and offer silent tribute to members who had died.

One of the surviving members of the Mechanics' Institute, the organization of some thirty prominent citizens who underwrote the $175,000 bond issue of the present Chamber of Commerce Building, the corner-stone of which was laid March 28, 1903, discussed the aims and objects of the original small band of enthusiasts. The fondest hopes and dreams, this speaker said, had been more than realized.

WORLD IS SURVEYED

Prof. Alonzo E. Taylor of Stanford University spoke on "Reparations and the Ruhr Occupation." Frank A. Vanderlip, former president of the National City Bank of New York City, spoke on "World Conditions."

One of the features in connection with last night's banquet was the equipment of the hall with the Western Electric public address system, which made it possible for guests in the remotest corners of the large banquet hall to hear the speakers as easily as those directly in front of them. Last night was the first time this system was used in any large Los Angeles assembly hall. The installation was arranged by Harry L. Harper, local manager of the installing company, and a member of the chamber banquet committee.

Music for the occasion was provided by the Uplifters' Four of Los Angeles, and the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company band. The banquet hall was handsomely decorated and a large picture of George Washington hung back of the master of ceremonies.

THEME IS WIDE

The general theme of the banquet was present-day economic conditions, not only in Los Angeles, but the world in general. The banquet committee consisted of Arthur S. Bent, chairman; F. O. Bristol, Chester C. Ashley, (Continued on Second Page)

REMINGTON LIFE THREAT FEARED

Slain Man Knew of Peril, Letters Reveal

Bootlegger is Warned by Eastern Friends

Personal Effects Inspected; Widow Quizzed Again

Earle Remington, society bootlegger, who was shot down by an assassin armed with a double-barreled shotgun as he stepped from his automobile in the driveway of his home at 1405 South St. Andrews Place eight days ago, was living in fear of a violent death, according to letters written by him to friends in Connecticut.

That threats against Remington had been made was established by the police yesterday afternoon when they discovered answers to his letters to his eastern friends in his office at 741 South Hill street. The correspondence, police say, speaks of threats and cautions Remington to be careful. The names of the persons who signed the letters are being kept secret, and eastern detectives have been asked to question them.

A search of Remington's office and his storehouse was made yesterday morning by Detective Cline and Jarvis. A mass of letters and other papers filed in his office were read bit by bit and all documents bearing to have any bearing on the case were carried to the police station. Among the things taken by the officers were the letters speaking of the death threats and the slain man's check book. The check book seized, according to officers, is one which was used by Remington for his personal checking account. His business check book could not be located.

CALL AT HOME

After the search of the office and the storehouse the police again called at the Remington home and questioned Mrs. Remington. According to Detective Cline, she was asked to explain some of her husband's actions with a young girl living in the neighborhood. She was also asked to throw additional light on his bootlegging activities. The officers (Continued on Twentieth Page)

FROM DIXIE LAND
Florence Robinson, classical interpreter, offered something different this time, "My Black Mammy," from Martha Jellison's "Mammy's Reminiscences." Mrs. Robinson is a southern woman and knows her dialect. Mary Isabelle Alpaugh read a one-act romantic comedy, "Catsby," by Percival Wilde, clever, amusing and delightfully sentimental. Guests who assisted her—Uncle John, himself, I love romance, whether in song or prose.

Oh, yes, we had "Micky" McBan, child reader, for the evening program, a clever youngster who brings realism, and whose bright personality is always enjoyed by the audience.

PUPILS ARE PROTECTED IN TRAFFIC

Safety Committee Plan Gaining Favor; Schools Plan Demonstration

Interest in the safety committee plan, recently inaugurated in many of the public schools of Los Angeles, is growing at a gratifying rate, and the system promises to minimize the number of injuries to school children, according to a statement made yesterday by E. B. Leffert, manager of the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Demonstrations of the operation of the plan, comparatively new in Los Angeles, will be given at several city schools at 8:45 a.m. today, and the parents of school children are invited to watch the older students portray the role of "traffic cop" for the benefit of the younger ones.

The system has been productive of splendid results, the committee of teachers, appointed by Mrs. Mary C. Flynn having tested the plan in several schools, to the delight of the boys who have been given authority to act as monitors, and to the joy of the children who are assured of protection in crossing the streets.

The boys appointed as monitors post themselves at various dangerous street corners a few minutes before school time, and it is their business to see to it that the tide of traffic is turned in the proper direction, and that the way is clear before allowing the throngs of young students to start across the streets.

In cities in which this plan has been tried for any considerable length of time, the accident rate has been reduced 50 to 80 per cent, according to Mr. Leffert, who advocates the appointment by the school board of a supervisor of safety.

"We have supervisors for various studies, and surely the city could afford a paid official to look after the safety of the children," said Mr. Leffert. "It would seem that a child's life should be worth as much as his ability to sing. One thing is certain. A child can't sing at his own funeral."

I, I, I: I, MYSELF; I
THE HISTORY OF ME BY ME
CHAPTER XLVI—RICKETS

Today I am going to tell you what Mr. Hies and other doctors have found out about sunlight's preventing rickets. You know how rickets is a disease of the bones. In sunlight, how it cannot grow well without it. It has been found that sunlight is as important for babies and children as it is for plants. A child who does not get enough sunlight and a deficient diet may lead to rickets. Diet is not the chief cause of the disease, it is thought to be the lack of sunlight. The disease occurs mostly during the winter and spring months and decreases in the summer months. The bones in the summer months the children get more sunlight. So one of the best treatments is to see that the child gets sunlight.

The sunlight must be the direct sunlight—that is not filtered through glass. It is not the light that filters out the curative rays. When it is cold, as it is in the winter months, the children and babies cannot have the benefit of direct sunlight so much and that is why we should get the cod liver oil. The children that are old enough to have their arms and legs exposed even in the winter months, of course, you must always remember that these two things have to be combined with correct diet.

This direct sunlight treatment is given to the children who are old enough to be exposed to the cold weather, in the hospital. The children are taken in warm dresses are made of heavy material sewed across the bottom. They are made with little rompers. They are made with elastic around the arms and around the openings for the they hug tight and the soldiers are taken out of the trenches. The children are put in the sunlight about fifteen minutes. Gradually the time is increased until they stand straight.

The arms are covered up and they are first exposed, and when they get used to this amount of exposure, the legs are then exposed also. And when it is mild, the chest and the back are exposed.

Of course, there can be no sunbath about this exposure. It has to be regulated, according to the temperature and the sensitiveness of the child. The children should be given every day if possible, but four or five times a week seems to suffice.

At the hospital the signs of rickets disappear in this treatment. Of course, in the hospital the development and the growth of the bones begin to their deposit of calcium salt.

Do you know they found out about this sunlight treatment from the young rats and dogs. They fed them diets that caused rickets and kept them in the dark so they could not get sunlight. Then they were cured without changing their diet.

I think these animals must be very happy that they are served such useful lives to help mankind. I am sure I have told you enough about this so you can see the importance of getting your babies plenty of sunlight and of giving them good and sunlight, and liver oil also if necessary.

Wife's Divorce Bill Describes Public Scold

A marital squabble which ended in a husband's attempt to arrest his wife, was the basis of a divorce complaint filed by Mrs. D. Scott against her husband, D. Scott, in Superior court yesterday.

Mrs. Scott said she went to work with her husband. One day when the show, she said, was over some trifling matter. Then her husband went to the lobby and publicly humiliated her, she said.

She said she was so humiliated that she decided to leave him. She said she would go to her home, and start a new life. She said she arrived there, she said, and found that the matron was waiting for her. She said she asserted the matron to do.

The wife said their differences were further aggravated by the husband's insistence on her to go to the back yard, and to arrange for a new house.

Attorneys Barlow and Stewart represent Mrs. Scott.
